MISSISSIPPI GREETS

The Great Democratic Leader from New York.

SENATOR HILL RESUMES HIS TRIP.

Met at Meridian by the Legislative Committee.

AND IS ESCORTED TO JACKSON.

Governor Stone's Warm Words of Introduction—The Young Hickory of Modern Democracy.

Jackson, Miss., March 15.—Senator Hill has made a splendid impression upon the thousands of Mississippians who met him here today.

They have been charmed by his thoroughly democratic manner. They have been struck by his ready sympathy with their condition, and they look upon him as a democrat who can be trusted under all circumstances.

They Met Hill at Meridian.

The committee representing the capital of Mississippi, met Senator Hill at Meridian and escorted him to Jackson. The members of his committee were: R. H. editor, of the State Ledger; Senator Fox, Stephens and Harrison, and Representatives Street and Vandaman.

On his arrival an immense crowd was assembled, and Governor Stone met the senator and welcomed him to the state amid the cheers of 5,000 Mississippians. Senator Hill became the guest of Governor Stone during his stay in Jackson, and a reception was held at the executive mansion at 12 o'clock, where the senator shook hands with a score of visitors for over an hour.

Introduced by Governor Stone.

At 2 o'clock the legislature met in joint session in the hall of the two houses of representatives with Lieutenant Governor Evans and Speaker Street as joint presiding officers. The galleries and lobbies were crowded to the utmost and loud cheers greeted the appearance of the guest of Mississippi as Senator Hill entered the hall in company with Governor Stone. To the governor of the state was assigned the honor of introducing Senator Hill at the joint session.

Introducing Hill, Governor Stone said: Ladies and Gentlemen—As a Mississippian I feel greatly honored in having one among us so distinguished as the gentleman who will speak to you here today. He has for a time withdrawn from his arduous duties at the national capital and comes to us in a great judge, one who is a great politician and one from a great newspaper. He spoke of the marvel of its endurance. Its endurance is in the fact of its success in the cause of the people. All the great achievements of the world have been due to the efforts of the people of the Mississippian. He comes to us undisguised as a representative of the great national democracy. (Applause.) A man endowed with every requirement and accomplishment necessary to make him a great leader of parties and of men; a man whose civic laurels such as few men of his years have ever won; the man who, so far as his own state is concerned, has filled the measure of public honor; native of the great state of New York, he has honored as few men of that or any other state have lived to be honored. For several consecutive years he has served his great constituents in this state, and is now its most honored representative of the people of Mississippian. He comes to us undisguised as a representative of the great national democracy. (Applause.) A man endowed with every requirement and accomplishment necessary to make him a great leader of parties and of men; a man whose civic laurels such as few men of his years have ever won; the man who, so far as his own state is concerned, has filled the measure of public honor; native of the great state of New York, he has honored as few men of that or any other state have lived to be honored. For several consecutive years he has served his great constituents in this state, and is now its most honored representative of the people of Mississippian. He comes to us undisguised as a representative of the great national democracy. (Applause.)

A man who has proved himself a safe and sound party leader, and democrats who represent him, who are the most conservative democracy. It is my privilege and pleasure, ladies and gentlemen, to introduce to you Hon. David B. Hill, of New York. (Prolonged applause.)

Senator Hill's Reply.

Senator Hill faced his Mississippi audience calm and collected, and after the applause which greeted his introduction had subsided, he spoke as follows:

Gentlemen and Gentlemen: Before commencing my remarks I am tempted to remark that from this vast crowd present today Mr. Hill, the most popular speaker of the house of representatives, but not the most popular would have no difficulty in countaining a quorum of the legislature. (Laughter and applause.)

I am always sensible, gentlemen, of the legislature of the state of Mississippi. How rare your bestowal has been of that distinction, and how appropriate it is to give me this opportunity to receive at your hands and to acknowledge with gratitude. What statesmen of our great republic, most venerable, most winning, most eloquent, have ever been summed up in this one commandment: Live up to your constitution, the way, the truth, the light. (Applause.)

At the conclusion of Senator Hill's speech Congressman Hooker was called for and made stirring speech which was loudly applauded.

Hill's Speech in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 15.—In passing here yesterday, Senator Hill was introduced by Colonel E. B. Frazer, the man who has carried the democratic banner to victory in New York, and who would be next president of the United States. (Great applause, and cries of "Hill! Hill!")

Senator Hill said:

I thank you for the compliment of this splendid reception given me. New York takes pride in Tennessee and Tennessee takes pride in New York. The interests of the two states are common. The people of the two states are common. And this philosopher saw, or thought he saw, increasing tendency toward a perversion of its use to establiish justice and equality, to pursue the ends of justice and equality, to extend its powers towards many kinds of governmental aggressions, and by consequence, a too willing submission to the will of the powerful and the wealthy, keen love of liberty.

The blood of many races has mingled here with early strains. For him, therefore, who has been summed up in this one commandment: Live up to your constitution, the way, the truth, the light. (Applause.)

Hill's Speech in Meridian.

Meridian, Miss., March 15.—(Special)—A special meeting of the David B. Hill Club was held tonight to complete the arrangements for his reception here. As he comes as the guest of the Hibernian Society, and that society will receive him at the depot through a committee, the club decided to appoint a committee of fifty of its most prominent members to assemble at the DeSoto Thursday morning to receive him upon his arrival there as the representative of the club. In the evening the club will assemble, and, headed by a brass band, march to the hotel and serenade the senator. The DeSoto proprietors have tendered the club the use of its parlors for a public reception on Friday morning. The Hill Club still grows, fifty new members being added to-night.

SAVANNAH READY TO RECEIVE HIM.

Senator Hill Will Receive an Ovation in the Forest City.

Savannah, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—A special meeting of the David B. Hill Club was held tonight to complete the arrangements for his reception here. As he comes as the guest of the Hibernian Society, and that society will receive him at the depot through a committee, the club decided to appoint a committee of fifty of its most prominent members to assemble at the DeSoto Thursday morning to receive him upon his arrival there as the representative of the club. Incidentaries Did the Work.

Ichanon, Fla., March 15.—(Special)—Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, a large barn on the farm of Captain Elie Harper, a black farmer, situated in the eastern part of Lebanon, was destroyed by fire. Two head of fine jacks and a valuable herd perished in the flames; also several thousand dollars' worth of valuable machinery. His loss is between ten and twelve thousand dollars, with only $3,500 insurance. The fire was the work of incendiaries, and boulders are now working on the trail.

Rhode Island Report.

Providence, R. I., March 15.—The republican state convention met here last night and nominated Dr. Russell Brown, Providence, for governor. Messrs. Smith of Providence; secretary of state, G. H. Utter, of Westerly, the general treasurer, state treasurer, Samuel Clark, incumbent. The administration of the president was emphatically endorsed.

Fire on Sunday.

Elberton, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—Fire destroyed a house in Elberton Sunday. It broke out as people were returning from church and caused considerable excitement. The house was occupied by a negro and the loss was about seven hundred dollars. No insurance.

To Make Special Rates.

Captain J. L. Taylor, general passenger agent of the Richmond and Danville, left for Washington. A conference of the southern passenger lines was held to agree to make rates for the Grand Army of the Republic encampment. A mass meeting of passenger men will also soon be held to discuss world's fair rates.

Mr. Dockery followed in a general denunciation of the protective system and plenty of them. There is a young emperor who rules this state, nobody else; follow me.

There is a little island where many say: This state is a first rate contrivance for doing what we want.

Let us get hold of it and do what we think good for everybody. There is a vast sea where many slaves, and are saying: Let us call it our empire.

There is a great and fair Republic over the water where all say: We must fight one day, let us give all our young men to the army and be ready. I don't know where we are to go anywhere than an old democratic faith and tradition, which among men as civilized as we, finds its legitimate place to consolidate and unify the country, to secure the social aggregate; first to resist foreign aggression, a danger we are dreading daily by reason of the war, and then to prevent foreign invasion, and to keep the ocean barrier next and chief to prevent the punishment of individual aggression, in order to establish and maintain justice that we may all be happy and free from fear.

What is the cause of men less capable than we? (Applause.)

Every man is a great and wise man in his own estimation.

THE FATAL BULLET

which Put an End to the Life of Mr. Roos.

IDENTIFIED BY A TRUNK CHECK.

He Was a Victim of the Maher-Fitzsimmons Fight, and Lost Money Thereby.

Augusta, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—A shooting tragedy occurred in Augusta at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. N. G. Roos, who lives in San Francisco, but who travels for the Leominster Sh. Co., 253 Church Street, New York, committed suicide by shooting himself when he killed himself. Yesterday Chief Blood got a telegram from New Orleans, from Superintendent of Police Gaston, to arrest Roos, who was wanted there for obtaining money and goods there under false pretenses.

The Check Was the Sign.

The dispatch stated that Roos had checked his baggage from Washington city to Atlanta and had check 2,554, and he was arrested by Policeman McArtier.

The man was surprised, and said a mistake had been made, that his name was B. Jaffe, of San Francisco, and he had only called for Mr. Roos's trunk.

The officer told him Roos was the man wanted, and if he was not the man, but would show his Roos, he would be released. The stranger was frightened and accepted the officer's proposition, and started to the Arlington hotel to find Roos.

While going to the hotel Jaffe met Roos in the arcade alley and told the officer there was the man. After Mr. Jaffe had told the truth he was turned loose, and the right man was arrested. Mr. Roos said to the officer he did not want to look conspicuous by walking down Broad street to the barracks under arrest, and asked him to go down a back street.

The Fatal Bullet.

The obliging officer, to please his prisoner, turned into Reynolds street, and when they reached the alley next to Mr. S. Lesser's cotton warehouse on that street, Roos was led to the door to allow him to go into the alley for a few seconds.

He was permitted to go, the policeman closely following him. While the officer's back was turned Roos jerked out his pistol and killed himself by firing a thirty-eight caliber ball into his brain. He fell to the ground dead. The officer was astounded, it happened so quickly.

No Particulars Known.

No particulars are known of his crime. Roos is wanted in New Orleans, and when his friend, Mr. Jaffe, who was first arrested, said he was in New Orleans with Roos at the Fitzsimmons fight, and had drawn drifts on Roos Bros., his brothers in San Francisco, and on his house in New York, and they had refused to meet the drafts.

Roos and Jaffe came here Sunday from Atlanta, and Jaffe said his friend intended to change his name to Cohen, which he was known by here. Roos is an insatiate, forty years old, five feet seven inches tall, weighs 170 pounds, and has dark hair and moustache. His family have been wind to as to what disposition should be made of the body. Roos intended leaving here this morning for Charlotte.

BIBB'S BOARD OF EQUALIZERS.

They Are Elected and Will Begin Work at Once.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—The new law establishing a board of tax equalization in the different counties will go into effect in Bibb at once, and there is a general opinion that they cannot get to work too soon.

The county commissioners elected the board yesterday afternoon, and it is as follows: C. A. Sharpe, Roland B. Hall, James A. Shinn, George W. Tharpe, A. C. Kitch, all of whom are well-known and substantial citizens.

The law allows this board to meet not more than thirty days in one year and pays them $3 per day for their services. At these meetings they are to hear complaints and decide upon tax returns as may need their attention.

There are already many complaints filed with the county commissioners and the board proposes to start the work on these at once. It is believed that the work of the board will largely increase the taxable values of Bibb county.

THE MAJORS' ELECTION

To Be Held Directly After the Advisory Board Meets.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—The election for two new majors for the Second Georgia regiment will not be held until after the next session of the state advisory board, which will be about April 1st. Colonel Wiley stated to the Constitution today that he had consulted with Adjutant General Kell and they had decided to postpone the election until after the next meeting, on account of certain complications in the early days of the state. This complication, however, will not prevent two new majors being elected for the Second regiment, but it is simply advisable to consult on the matter before going to the polls.

Macon military men are greatly gratified at the candidacy of Captain J. L. Hartschuh, of the Floyd Rifles, and are unanimous that he is the best man that could have been selected for the place.

Thought He'd Even Them Up.

Waycross, Ga., March 13.—(Special)—Captain John McElmurry came near breaking ten bales of cotton through the inquiring turn of mind of his little son John. The cotton was packed and lying near a tree where John, Jr., was trying to catch a chameleon by the light of a torch. The bales looking a little strange, and John decided to sing them over again to give them a smooth appearance, so when he applied the torch, it exploded. In fact, they did better, it then became unexpected. His cries for help brought assistance and the blaze was soon extinguished. John's curiosity, like his father's cotton, has suffered a slight decrease.

A Champion Eater.

Fort Gaines, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—The champion eater is in Fort Gaines, and Bill Comely, colored, is the man. At one sitting he accomplished the following: In 2 1/4 minutes he ate six dry soda crackers, a one-pound onion, in one minute; box of sardines in 8 1/2 of a minute; six more crackers in three minutes, and wound up on a half pint of apple vinegar, which he said was mighty funny whisky.

She Wore Men's Clothes.

Dublin, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—Mattie Hester, the white woman who was arrested here for shooting while within a mile of her home, has been released on her own recognizance. She is apparently confined for a long time eroded the officers. Upon several occasions she has donned male attire as a disguise, and upon one occasion she took the robes and Dublin train here and rode to Macon dressed in men's clothes.

HER LITTLE GIRL.

Mrs. Henry Brown, of Decatur, wants her only child, which her husband carried away.

Story of the Disappearance of a Man, Who Took with Him His Only Child. The Mother Wants the Girl.

Kidnapped his own child. That is what Charles Brown of Decatur, has done.

And his wife is making every effort to catch the man and recover the child.

These are the features of a very sensational story that has been reported to the police. All his life Brown has been resident of Georgia. His father is still living and the family is a prominent one. Young Brown was born and raised in DeKalb county, about three miles from his present home. A little more than six years ago he married a young lady of St. Louis. They lived there for a while and then came to Decatur.

About two years ago they returned to the Mount City. Shortly after that Brown left his wife, and for some time the lady heard nothing of him. Then he wrote a letter telling of a good home that he had for her in Decatur and asking her to come and live there for a while and then came to Decatur.

Since that time, she says, he has not done a stroke of work. Their support came from a neat inheritance left Mrs. Brown by an aunt. This was entrusted to her husband for care. But his wife says he managed the finances with such poor judgment and invested the money at such a disadvantage, that the estate was soon materially reduced.

Mrs. Brown, seeing to what pass matters were hastening, in order to save the remnants of her fortune, seems to have stepped in a short while ago and assumed the reins of management.

This greatly displeased Brown. He had been a machine agent for a time and he was told to secure work again and contribute his share to the support of the family. This made repeated requests for sums of money, but his wife says he contributed to manifest his displeasure to such an extent as to greatly annoy her; that he got into trouble occasionally and she always paid the costs, but he failed to appreciate the circumstances.

On Sunday a week ago the husband was missing. Later in the day Mrs. Brown was disturbed with the discovery that her little girl, Roberta, was also gone. She was one of two children—four years old, one five.

A search was made and friends joined in, but it proved of no avail. The child had evidently been taken by her father. After writing to Mr. Burdette, the sheriff, she appealed to the police. On Sunday she wanted her child and begged him to use every means to recover it. She said she intended to prosecute her husband on the charge of kidnapping.

Since then the detectives and Patrolmen have been busily engaged looking for the absent husband. Yesterday both went to Decatur and are now on the man's trail.

Mrs. Brown is a lady of thirty years of age and has a refined appearance and manner and a very pleasant and pretty face. She is related to several prominent families of Atlanta.

The wife and mother says she intends sparing neither pains nor expense in bringing to justice the husband who has kidnapped his own child.

TO CAPTURE THE ALLIANCE.

A People's Party Mass Meeting to Be Held in Fulton Tomorrow.

The first people's party mass meeting ever held in Fulton county will be held tomorrow at Cornell.

And the programme is carried out there will be some fun.

It is the purpose of the people's party crowd to capture the Fulton County Alliance, and the mass meeting at Cornell tomorrow will be the beginning of the crusade.

The first speakers will be the leaders of the party.

Under the superintendence of Mr. McAdoo things will continue to move along smoothly.

THE BOARD OF CONTROL.

Of the Jewish Orphans' Home Will Meet Next Month.

The board of control of the Jewish Orphans' home will meet in Atlanta next month.

And some of the most prominent Israelites in the United States will be in the Gate City during the three days' session of the board.

On the last day of the session of the board, the great annual charity ball, for the benefit of the home, will take place at Concordia hall. It will be the grandest social event of the kind ever known in Atlanta, and from it a full, full purse for the benefit of the home will be derived. The good, warm-hearted, orphan-loving, Jewish ladies of Atlanta are now working zealously, day and night, to perfect every detail for this, their annual pride, and are receiving more encouragement and solid assistance from their friends than ever before.

The board of control will be composed of:

Hon. Simon Wolf, president, of Washington, D. C., that great philanthropist and lover of his race.

Henry Adler, Washington, D. C., secretary and treasurer.

Aaron Braga, Baltimore; M. Daniel Rothmore; Hon. William Lovetson, Richmond, Va.; Sol. Well, Goldsboro, N. C.; I. J. Mack, Wilmington, N. C.; H. C. Cohen, Augusta; Nathan Lavin, Charles H. L. Well, Savannah, and Hon. Joe Hirsch, Atlanta.

Cornelius, the place where the mass meeting will be held, is a small postoffice about three miles south of the city, on Mr. S. M. Taliaferro's place.

It remains to be seen what attitude the alien men of this county will assume toward the new party. It is believed that they will remain true to the democracy.

"A Hole in the Ground" Tonight.

Tonight will be presented at the opera house Charles H. Hoyt's rollicking farce comedy, "A Hole in the Ground." A more wholesome attraction could not well be desired.

It is a picture of a man who is trying to make the business man as well as the hard-working man a success.

This complication, however, will not prevent two new majors being elected for the Second regiment, but it is simply advisable to consult on the matter before going to the polls.

Macon military men are greatly gratified at the candidacy of Captain J. L. Hartschuh, of the Floyd Rifles, and are unanimous that he is the best man that could have been selected for the place.

INTO NEW HANDS

The Atlanta Consolidated Lines Will Go Today.

MR. M. R. M'ADOO, THE SUPERINTENDENT

He Is An Experienced Manager of Street Car Lines, and Is a Native Georgian.

A new superintendent takes charge of the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company this morning. He is Mr. M. R. McAdoo, a young gentleman of experience in the line of work which begins today.

Superintendent McAdoo succeeds Mr. C. P. Matlock, who held that position until about a month ago. Mr. Matlock has returned to Boston and has entirely severed his connection with the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company.

Since M. Matlock left the service of the company just a month ago the management of the lines has been in the hands of Mr. Joe Hurt, the president of the company. He has been looking round for a suitable man for the superintendency during that time and the choice fell upon Mr. McAdoo.

Mr. McAdoo has for these years been the superintendent of the Knoxville Electric Car Company, in Knoxville, Tenn. In the management of that company's lines he exhibited splendid qualities as an executive officer, and has risen to an enviable place in the estimation of the public.

Excellently did Mr. McAdoo succeed in the Social Circle case, which is set for a hearing in the United States supreme court, testimony to be received until the 18th of April.

After considering the request the commission has sent immediately, and the commission will be held at the same time as the hearing on the 24th.

Mr. McAdoo will be present at the hearing on the 24th.

He looked over the lines and seemed satisfied with th' hole of things. He conferred with Mr. Hurt daily. Yesterday Mr. Hurt had a full conference with Mr. McAdoo and decided to appoint him superintendent of the Atlanta Consolidated.

Mr. McAdoo will take charge of the lines this morning.

He will occupy the same office as Mr. Hurt.

His duties will not be as exacting as has been those of his predecessor.

Much of the work formerly falling to the superintendent will now be looked after by Mr. Hurt, who will act as both president and general manager of the company.

With the Metropolitan lines Mr. McAdoo will have nothing to do. This line is in the hands of Receiver Broyles and of Mr. P. Harrison as superintendent.

Mr. McAdoo, the new superintendent, is a Georgian by birth and has been in the state about eight years ago.

He is a brother of Mr. McAdoo, the well-known Tennessee lawyer, of Chattanooga.

Young Adcock went to Tennessee when quite a boy and engaged in the work of a civil engineer. He made a success of this and became a prominent man in the Knoxville lines.

Mr. McAdoo is highly connected in Georgia and is a gentleman of the highest type.

President Hurt says that on the first of the year he found that the lines were doing as well as they were then. A vast amount of money was invested in the company, and a greater amount than seemed absolutely necessary was being expended.

Mr. Hurt decided to take charge of things which he did.

Since doing so he has cut down the expense of $30,000. This saving is in the part of the company.

Every two days the cars are now inspected and thoroughly cleaned up. This work is done at Inman Park by two graduates of the Technological school.

Mr. W. H. Smith, of the "Daily Crescent," says that the work is being done in a very satisfactory manner.

Under the superintendence of Mr. McAdoo things will continue to move along smoothly.

THE BOARD OF CONTROL.

Of the Jewish Orphans' Home Will Meet Next Month.

The board of control of the Jewish Orphans' home will meet in Atlanta next month.

And some of the most prominent Israelites in the United States will be in the Gate City during the three days' session of the board.

On the last day of the session of the board, the great annual charity ball, for the benefit of the home, will take place at Concordia hall.

It will be the grandest social event of the kind ever known in Atlanta, and from it a full, full purse for the benefit of the home will be derived.

The good, warm-hearted, orphan-loving, Jewish ladies of Atlanta are now working zealously, day and night, to perfect every detail for this, their annual pride, and are receiving more encouragement and solid assistance from their friends than ever before.

The board of control will find the home in the most perfect shape when the annual charity ball is over.

The magnificence of the charitable building will be more beautiful than ever to the members, while the grounds, now thoroughly prepared, shaded and flowered, will be enchanting. An array of tables, bright and more beautiful than ever, the chairs willadden their hearts, too, when they sit down to eat.

When they sit down to eat, they will be in a room that is the most perfect in the world.

The board of control will meet on April 2d, and will be in session at least three days.

A GRAND RALLY

The Fulton County Democrats Will Have.

GENERAL SICKLES, COLQUITT, WRIGHT.

eloquence, Wisdom and Wit to Rule the Hour—All the Details Are Arranged.

There was a full meeting of the committee of the Hill Club of Fulton county yesterday, and various subcommittees were appointed to arrange for the grand rally of the democrats of Fulton county on the evening of the 18th instant.

A finance committee was appointed, a committee on arrangements and various other details were appointed to the meeting.

General Sickles and Senator Colquitt will arrive on the vestibule train that is due here at 6 o'clock p.m., Thursday the 17th instant.

All the various committees are requested to meet the train on its arrival and accompany the general and Senator Colquitt to the Kimball house, where rooms have been secured.

The following telegram was sent yesterday by the Hibernian Society:

The Hibernian Society.

To Senator A. H. Colquitt and General Daniel E. Sickles, Washington, D. C.: The Irishmen of Atlanta extend to you a most cordial invitation to attend their annual meeting the night of the 17th instant.

A committee from the Hibernian Society will call for General Sickles, Senator Colquitt and Hon. Seaborn Wright and escort them to Concordia hall on the night of the banquet.

Going to the Battlefields.

On the morning of the 18th instant, at 10 o'clock, the committee will take carriages at the Kimball and carry General Sickles out to the battlefield of July 19th and 20th.

The route will be out Peachtree street and beyond Mr. Joe Thompson's elegant residence.

Mr. Thompson's country place is where the skirmishing commenced on this famous battlefield. The fight continued from that place to Peachtree bridge on the Buckhead road. After returning from the battlefield the party will stop at Mr. Thompson's residence a short while, and return by way of Piedmont park, and go from there by the Boulevard out to the battlefield of the 22d of July, and over this battlefield to the McPherson monument; from that point through Grant park to the McPherson barracks, and after spending a short time there they will return to Captain E. P. Howell's residence in West End, where the whole party will dine.

After dinner General Sickles will return to the Kimball and rest till time for his speech at DeGive's opera house, at 7:30 o'clock on the night of 18th instant.

Elegantly dressed.

The ladies are especially invited to attend at DeGive's opera house, and seats will be reserved for them especially.

Colonel J. T. Glenn, chairman of the Hill Club, will preside at the meeting, and all the committees will have seats on the platform.

Colonel Glenn will introduce Senator Colquitt, who will speak first, and when Senator Colquitt finishes he will introduce General Sickles, and after he concludes Colonel Glenn will introduce Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Rome, Ga.

And He Will Be Heard, Too.

Senator Colquitt has written to the convention that he will not speak over thirty minutes. He wants to say something to his fellow citizens.

He says he knows the great democratic heart of Georgia will make no mistake when victory is in sight. He will make one of his best speeches, because he is heartily enthused.

General Sickles' Life Sketched.

General Sickles is one of the most distinguished men in the United States. He has always been a democrat, was a democratic congressman before the war and was a warm personal friend of General Howell Cobb, General Toombs, Hon. Martin J. Crawford, General Gariel, and in fact of all the southern members of congress before the war.

He was a major general in the United States army in the war, and lost a leg at Gettysburg. General Grant appointed him minister to Spain, when he was first elected president, notwithstanding the fact that he was and had always been a pronounced democrat. While abroad as minister to Spain, General Sickles married his second wife, a beautiful Spanish lady of large fortune. He has always been a great favorite with the New York democracy, and has always held any office he desired by their suffrage. He is a fine-looking man and good speaker.

Eloquent Seaborn Wright.

Hon. Seaborn Wright, who will follow General Sickles, is one of the most eloquent and entertaining speakers in the state of Georgia.

It is worth going to the opera house on the night of the 18th to hear him speak.

The committee have acted wisely by inviting this young Demosthenian of the mountains to speak here. The more our people hear him, the more they will want to hear him.

These distinguished speakers will draw a crowd in any part of Georgia, and in Atlanta they will have a grand audience.

HAUNTED HOUSE.

Strange Sight and Sounds in a Deserted Building in Athens.

Athens, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—There is a big scandal now going the rounds on Broad street and the hill. It is reported that there is an old out-house on the Boulevard near Barber street, at which strange sights are seen and strange sounds are heard all through the night. They say as any time after 11 o'clock at night lights can be seen moving about in this building and sounds resembling those of distress can be heard. Last night a gentleman in our town was passing along the hill, and seeing a light in the old building, rushed in, thinking some one was in distress, but he declares as soon as he entered the building the light was extinguished and the sounds ceased. As soon as he could regain his presence of mind he made a light to begin a search for the distressed party, but there was no trace whatever of any person being to be found. The man who was absent had made a thorough investigation of all the premises around but no trace of any person could be found whatever. This is rather a strange state of affairs and no doubt it will again be given a thorough investigation.

Uncle Sam's Tar Soap.

This is a very superior brand of soap, and if you wish to keep your hands soft, smooth and white, you can use no better soap than this. It is made of vegetable oil and glycerine and washed sparsely.

It is used by all railroad engineers, machinists, mechanics, printers, firemen, farmers, and the public in general desiring a healthful soap, and at the same time a soap that will remove all the greasy paint, etc., without injury to the skin.

Uncle Sam's Tar Soap also cures pimples, blackheads, and all skin diseases.

The Constitution is using it as its composing room soap, and it is as good as the best.

It is sold in all drugstores and department stores.

A HISTORICAL BUILDING.

Antiquities Venerated by Washingtonians in Wilkes County.

Washington, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—The old state bank, now General Heard's house, often called a historic building, but one of the best associations connected with it is that Mr. Samuel Barnett was born there. He was the first to born in the house and that event took place very soon after it was completed, that is March 6, 1824. Dr. Willis went into the bank as a boy eight years old when his mother, then wife of the first cashier, moved in, and his youth was a valuable association to it in Wilkes county. The old tavern stood there, kept by Colonel Williamson, two of whose descendants, Justices Lamar and Campbell, have been judges of the United States supreme court, and in front of the tavern stood the old swinging sign containing the picture of George Washington, through which it said that Governor John Clarke, riding drunk up the street, fired a gun.

TRYING TO BURN HIS WIFE'S HOUSE.

Augusta, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—The police caught George Perkins, a fire bug, at 2 o'clock this morning, trying to set fire to his wife's house on Teafair street. George made two unsuccessful attempts. He is angry with his wife because she refuses to live with him.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

Within the last month the immense business of King's Royal Germeter Co. has been more than doubled and large orders are pouring in from all directions. On February 20th, I. L. Lyon & Co., of New Orleans, gave them a cash order for seven thousand and two hundred bottles to be delivered at once.

IT MEANS:

1. That when such men as General Longstreet, General Turner, Governor Hubbard, Colonel Avery, Rev. W. G. E. Cunningham, Rev. J. B. Hawthorne and Rev. Sam Jones try a medicine and give it their undivided endorsement the people believe him.

2. That Germeter has done all that its most ardent friends have declared that it does.

3. That it has mastered le grippa, rheumatism, dyspepsia, nervous debility, insomnia, kidney troubles, asthma, summer complaints and catarrh wherever it has been tried.

4. That the discovery of Germeter is the most valuable contribution that this century has made to medical science.

As a spring medicine it has no equal, it invigorates the stomach, aids digestion, tones up the system and thus brings health and happiness. In this respect no other remedy can compare with it.

Germeter is not a nauseous compound, but as pleasant to take as a glass of lemonade, the patient loves it and looks forward with pleasure to the time of taking it.

For sale at $1 per bottle at all drugstores. Manufactured by King's Royal Germeter Co., Atlanta, Ga.

In Class B.

The Southern League is in class B of minor leagues under the national agreement.
At the last meeting of the league it was unanimously determined to apply for the protection of the national agreement.
That compact provides two classes of minor league clubs, and it was left to Secretary Hoppe to decide which class the Southern League should take.After a study of both classes, Secretary Hoppe decided that Class B furnished just the protection which the southern clubs want, and so informed President Young. The following official bulletin from the big league official was received yesterday:

he started back and, having but little between working out leather and hanging to freight trains, he managed to reach Conyers. There he met with a man who gave his name as John Lynch, and a boy who gave a dozen different names.

Yesterday afternoon the three reached the edge of the city. The two strangers then threw Clarke to the ground and cut the pocket of the struggling boy away, taking every cent of his money, which amounted to a little over eight dollars.

Clarke got up to run and then ran after Lynch. The man seized the young man and threatened to choke him if he didn't leave. But the boy persisted, and then his assailant threw him some silver and made his way off.

It was just $2. Young Clarke appealed to the police, and they reported the matter at police headquarters.

An effort will be made to catch the ran-and boy.

ELECTRIC CARS FOR CAPITOL AVENUE.

Mr. Joel Hurt Talks About Some Proposed Extensions.

Peachtree street and Capitol avenue are soon to have electric lines.

Says so Mr. Joel Hurt, and he ought to know.

Work will begin on Capitol avenue at once and will be pushed to completion just as possible.

Then Peachtree will receive the attention of the Atlanta Consolidated, and in a few weeks that splendid thoroughfare may have electric cars passing to and fro over it.

Mr. Joel Hurt yesterday received authorization to begin the work on Capitol avenue.

This news will be gladly received by the residents on that street.

With electric cars on Peachtree street and Capitol avenue every horse car line in the city will be substituted by electric lines.

So it seems that the days of the hay burner in Atlanta are numbered, and rapid transit makes a step forward.

Mr. Hurt talks.

Mr. Joel Hurt, in speaking of these proposed extensions of the electric lines referred to the opinions of the electric lines introduced in the council by Alderman Woodward.

This ordinance provides for the regulation
by the city council of the schedules of the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company.

"I consider that ordinance," said Mr.

Hurt, "is justified, and think there is nothing in the situation to justify such legislation.

Let me tear up my vote and write one for Maskrey, too."

Mr. Maskrey was selected because his proposition was the best in every sense of the word.

Financially, Atlanta can stand the trade, and for the "consideration" she will get one of the best all-around baseball men the south has ever produced.

And will present to the league a man whose face and work have been seen in Atlanta and other Southern League cities before.

Maskrey first attracted attention as a baseball player with the famous Akron, O., team. His associates then were McPhee and Tony Malone, whom Charley Morton, who managed Savannah in the days when every crossed between Atlanta and the Forest City was a monument to a base hit; Sam Barkley, the great first baseman of Pittsburgh, whose name went to the United States supreme court, and Curt Welch, that middle fielder who worked as high and hard as he worked.

In that company Maskrey was at home.

Then for years he kept company with Hecker, Reddy Mack, Pete Brown, Cook and the other Louisville boys. With this team he came south two or three times.

Last year he managed the Tacoma team of the Northwestern League and made a great success. He is sober, faithful and honest—gentleman of education and character. He is an excellent judge of players, a good player himself and well up on all the points. His bats well, fields well, and hard work high up in the league.

The New Grounds.

The contract for the lease of the new grounds was signed yesterday. The lease is taken for five years, which shows that the men interested in the club have faith in the permanency of the club and the league.

The grounds will be by all odds, the finest in the south. Indeed, it is doubtful, if any, except the National League cities, have anything that can compare with these. The new stand will have a capacity of 1,000.

There will be a number of private boxes, each of which will seat six persons. Of course there will be ample "bleachers" a terrace for carriages, and, in fact, every possible convenience.

The new grounds cover almost the entire block at Glenn, Windsor and Crumley streets, are level and splendidly adapted to the purposes for which they are to be used.

These grounds will be made permanent athletic headquarters, and everything possible will be done to further the interests of legiti-mate sports of all kinds.

THE BISHOP TO PREACH.

Bishop Nelson Will Preach at St. Philip's
Today.

Bishop Nelson will preach at St. Philip's today at 11 o'clock, and again at 7 o'clock tonight.

The service tonight will be for men, and they are invited to attend.

The bishop is sure of a good congregation.

Bishop Nelson will meet the ladies of the Funeral Memorial Society tomorrow

at 11 o'clock at the residence of Mr.
P. H. Snook. All members are invited to be present.

N. E. YOUNG, Secretary.

Under this class, all clubs are allowed and the right of reserving players for one year. If the major league desires any of these players at the end of the season, they have to pay $500 each for their release.

Western League Players.

Secretary E. Young, of the National League, has sent to all clubs a circular letter following, list of contrivances with the Western League and with clubs of the Illinois and Iowa Leagues.

ESTATE IS DECIDELY BRISK

Valuable Property Changes Hands
Wednesday—Atlanta Dirt Holds Its Own at All Times.

Atlanta real estate market is in exceptional condition.

Atlanta does seem as if Atlanta dirt would hold up even in the face of competition in all other lines.

Uncertain condition of railroad stocks and other securities seems to have caused a big demand for real estate

there were two sales yesterday in Atlanta largely attended, and some good was done by the auctioneers.

Mr. P. Black has made excellent sales of real estate in front of the police headquarters. The stakes on South street, in front of the police headquarters, were sold by him for $45,000.

No evidence of how the value of Atlanta is increasing is it only necessary to note that two years ago a property for $10,000, one year afterwards it for $10,000, and now, just another year having elapsed, it goes for $45,000.

It is only forty-eight and a half front

Black sold the Brown building, on South street to Mrs. Peck and Mr. B.
Price for $41,000. This property was then owned by Mr. George M. Brown, who sold two more. Mr. Black has resold fifty-two thousand dollars of real estate on Decatur and Peachtree streets, belonging to the Georgia Railroad.

The Streetcar Avenue Sale.

Blewley avenue conducted by Samuel W. Goode & Co., yesterday largely attended by both ladies and gentlemen.

Property offered was sold about four times for $25,000. Just two years ago it sold for $4,500. Now, however, for $4,500, it is only ten per cent profit.

Yesterday afternoon the first lot sold for $10,000, which would have made the whole lot bring, at the same rate, over $100,000 dollars, which is more than the entire value of the property offered.

A remarkable fact is that the man willing to sell more of his property on this basis. This shows the importance of owners in the certain of Atlanta, and it also shows the importance to men labor under in which may be great, but unless the views of the owner as to how such is to be realized are not, they are limited to their property and wait to realize the value of their property.

Another sale will be held yesterday and tomorrow and this shows a remarkable addition to two years.

Another lever sale.

Today J. C. Hendrix & Co. sold the Davis property, on Marietta street, feet, for $200 a front foot, or for the entire property.

For the entire property, the Davis property, the Davis property, is authority for the state-cincinnati capitalist recently was loaned at six and a cent.

West received a letter yesterday in Wooster, O., in which he had $10,000 to invest, and wanted to invest in Atlanta. It seems that the country has its eyes on Atlanta
